Best practices when quoting

Even when some of our products offer automated options, to guarantee the best experience when quoting we recommend you:

• Sending us fully completed Acord forms (in the case they are required).

• Completing all prior loss information, so we can get back to you faster with quotes.

• Providing a detailed description of business operations - allowing us to find the best market for your client.

• Having firm numbers, as insurance is a financial product, this helps to provide the most accurate quote. Take this into account for all business and work-related applications.

• Collecting from your client all the information regarding updates for home-based products older than 1960 and providing the current status of the policy. This is always helpful for a seamless underwriting process.

Experience how our __online portal__ enables agents to move from long paperwork and turnaround times to an efficient quotation process.
